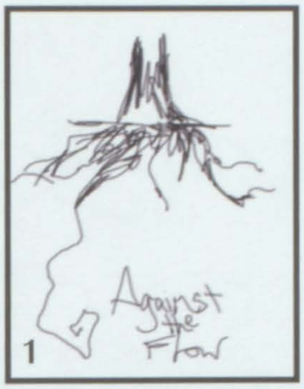
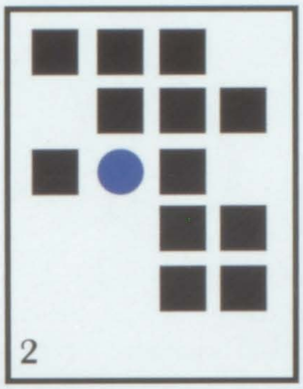
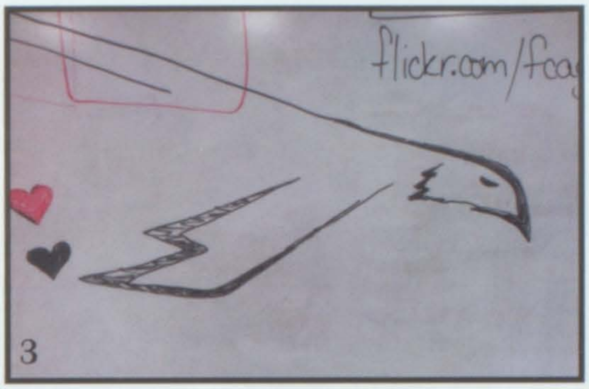
AGAINST

creating memories







Right: One of the most difficult aspects of yearbook is theme development, and, specifically, creating a cover that clearly lays out the theme and has elements that can be carried through the book. The 2013-2014 yearbook staff decided on "Against the Flow" as the theme for the book early in the semester, but it took some work to come up with the perfect cover. At the yearbook conference in Columbus, Walsworth rep Keith McCoy helped the staff come up with Options 1 and 2. When he visited the class later in the semester, he sketched out Options 3 and 4. Though none of these designs were ultimately used for the cover, Layout Manager Bam Intuputi (12) did use the basic concept of Option 4 in her final cover design.

The 2014 Reflector was published by Walsworth Publishing Company. Keith McCoy was the Walsworth Sales Representative, and Michelle Brosemer was the Walsworth Service Representative. The adviser was Miss Becky Ritta. The editor was Sophia Songthangtham (12). The cover and the layouts were designed by Bam Intuputi (12), the layout manager. The business manager was Rachel McHargue (12). The staff members were Whitney Twogood (12), Talia Murphy (12), MyMy Luu (12), Nhung Phan (12), Eric Kim (12), Taylor Swantek (11), Hope Baldwin (11), Brittany Ritta (11), Lydia Johnson (11), ShayeLeigh Cooper (11), and Sang Duong (11). The body paragraphs and cutlines were typed in Palatino. Headlines were David and Sleepwalker. Quotes were Sleepwalker. Ads were in Jasper. Senior pages were in Oblique.

The yearbook staff would like to thank Mrs. Twyla Unruh, Miss Charissa Smith, Mr. Gordon Thiessen, and many others for letting us use their pictures.

Dorms have been an important part of Nebraska Christian since its inception. Then, most students went home for the weekend. Now, however, dorm life continues from the first day of school to the last, as most of the dorm students live much too far away to go home on weekends or even most holidays. Because of this, Girls' Dorm Mom Barb Hoff planned many activities and trips to keep the dorm students buys throughout the year.

During Thanksgiving break, the international students took two separate trips. The boys went to Branson, Missouri. On the trip they rode mini-carts, had dinner on The Belle of Branson, shopped at an outlet mall, and played laser tag.

Later in the year, the boys, including several American boys, went to Oklahoma City to watch a Thunder NBA game. Chase Kvols (12) said, "It was a great experience. I had a lot of fun with the dorm guys getting to know them better this year. I feel like we became close because of this trip. We all are more like brothers now than at the beginning of the year."

The dorm girls also had an opportunity to travel, visiting Omaha, Branson, and Minneapolis.

Although the boys and the girls didn't have a trip together, they went to Omaha once to watch the Broadway show Sister Act. That show was fun and easy to understand for new kids who are not proficient at English. Alicia Kim (8) said, "Their voices and songs in the play were extremely great, and I loved the people acting. This trip was more fun than the others since we went all together." Through all their trips, the students bonded as dorm brothers and sisters.

This year's senior class made a pretty significant impact on Nebraska Christian. With their servant hearts and both academic and athletic skills, they led the student body well. Seniors Cailyn Ostrand and Hans Epp received the Shield Award for their leadership skills on and off the court or field.

The senior class was a close class and not only worked as a body to change lives, but also have their lives changed. Senior Dana Poppe said, "My senior year went by so fast, and it was amazing because my class and others made it a fun experience."

The day of graduation came fast for many of the seniors, but it was a great day. The sun was shining bright, and many people came to support the seniors as a new chapter of their lives was about to begin. Senior Zoe Flynn said, "Graduation wasn't what I expected. It really wrapped up the year." Class speakers Hans Epp (12), Zoe Flynn (12) and Sophia Songthangtham (12) reflected on their time at Nebraska Christian and stressed the importance of following Christ as the seniors leave the "safety" of their parents and school.

Commencement speaker Pastor Paul Nauman spoke to the seniors about this transition in their lives. He walked through 2 Timothy 1 with them and challenged them to boldly represent Christ. "What will you do with the gospel?" he asked.

Graduation marked an end of an era for the seniors and the beginning of their adult lives.

against the flesh

-April Faeh (12)

Many students, parents, and other supporters joined together at the campus workdays to prepare the grounds for the fall semester.

Nebraska Christian is a school that has lots of opportunities outside of academics. One of those opportunities is service in many forms. Whether it's helping fellow students with homework or something small like holding the door for someone on campus, students find many ways to help each other out. A big way Nebraska Christian students serve as a student body is at the annual Harvest Festival. Every November, NC's supporters are invited to attend the Harvest Festival, where they look back on the year before to thank God for all the ways He has blessed the school. During this gathering, some of the students have the opportunity to serve their families and the other guests coffee and water, and when they are done with their meal, the students pick up their plates. To top off the night, Mr. Mike Flynn directs the Band, Choir, and elementary students in songs that the students worked on in class.

Many other service opportunities exist on campus, as well. For example, helping other students with homework is a great opportunity to get to know fellow students, and it also helps out the teachers. Nathan Griess (11) said, "I like helping others because it makes me feel good to think that I did something to help someone else out." Through the day there are many opportunities to lend a helping hand or encouraging word to someone in need. Rachel Epp (9) said, "It's good to serve others because in life they are our teammates, and when you help each other out you can accomplish great things and build each other up without dragging the others around you down."

Many students find ways to serve out side of school too. Hannah Myers (12) said, "I serve others in my church by teaching Sunday school for elementary-aged students. I also live in the dorm part time. It is so fun to get to know the international students and serve them while they are here in America." Service opportunities abound at NC--students just need to keep their eyes open to see where they can help.

In the Honor Banquet's third year, it moved from Heartland E Free in Central City to Monroe E Free in Phillips. This change allowed the banquet and after party to be held at the same location. The juniors served the seniors their meal, as is traditional. Mr. Josh Cumpston read each senior's notes from the underclassmen and then the students headed off to start the games.

Following the games and midnight breakfast, the students did something they haven't done in the past. The seniors shared with the juniors what they wish they would have known before their senior year and gave advice to them. The seniors also said what they were thankful for, which in most cases was their friends. Many of the seniors were very thankful that throughout high school and mainly their senior year, their friends were always there for them, helping them through situations and struggles. A few of the juniors also thanked the seniors for being there for them, for being leaders, and for helping as much as they did.

A unique school-wide event held in February kicked off The Next 50 Years Capital Building Campaign. Students in kindergarten through 12th grade sang in an all-school choir to family and friends to help launch the campaign and celebrate the future.

The campaign will address the needs of the Girls' Dormitory, the Gym Building, and the Boys' Dormitory. All three of these highly-used buildings were built between 1960 and 1964, and they have served NC students, friends and families for over 50 years. The goal of the campaign is to address the needs of these three buildings in order to prepare the campus to serve the Lord for another 50 years. Campaign Chairman Mark McHargue explained, "The NC facility has served us well, and this new improvement will keep NC a well-equipped option for high school students."

The first step of the campaign is anticipated in the summer of 2014 with breaking ground on a new Girls' Dormitory. Plans for the Boys' Dormitory and Gym Building are still being finalized.

The campaign has created excitement across campus and throughout the community. "I'm excited about the campaign because it is looking forward to and planning for the next 50 years. That means that the school will continue to be here, impacting students' lives, like it did mine, for a long time," said Mrs. Stephani Francl, 2003 alumna and NC's Development Director.

In its 55years of existence, NC has impacted thousands of lives, and this campaign is paving the way for more lives to be changed with the truth of the gospel.

The Class of 2014's senior trip was a change from past trips. Usually, the senior trip was to Minnesota or Texas, and freshmen or sophomores traveled to Washington, D.C. However, a few years ago, Superintendent Josh Cumpston and American Government teacher Carl Ostrand decided the D.C. trip would be better suited to seniors, who study government in the fall semester. So the Class of 2014 didn't go on a freshman or sophomore D.C. trip, and they made the journey to D.C. in the fall of 2013.

Waking up at 2 a.m. and flying the nation's capital (rather than driving, as most other classes had done), the seniors embarked on their new experience as a class.

The two favorite museums were Natural History and Holocaust because they really helped the seniors see how lost the world is. April Faeh (12) said, "The hardest part of the Holocaust museum was seeing a picture of a family that just got shot in the middle of the street." Arlington National Cemetery was the other highlight of the trip because it displayed the honor and loyalty of the men and women who died for this country. The whole trip was full of history and exciting new experiences.

The seniors didn't just walk around and look at buildings the whole time, they also had a couple fun activities. The first one on the list was going to eat at Fogo de Chao. Let's just say it was not a vegetarian restaurant. They gave you cards that had red side which meant that you didn't want any more meat and a green side which meant you wanted more. The second activity they did was watch a Capitols hockey game. Even though they were up in the nose bleeds of the stadium, they still had fun learning new chants and enjoying the game. Nhung Phan (12) said "This was my first time going to a hockey game, and I really enjoyed it! I am a hockey fan now."

Even though this trip was different from other senior trips, the seniors enjoyed experiencing new things and being with their class.

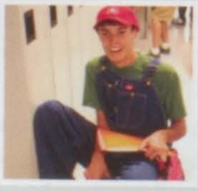
a week of fun

I really enjoyed seeing how creative everyone got with their costumes! There were lots of very unique ideas, and lots of funny moments.

-Zoe Flynn (12)

Dressing up not just as a single Bible character, but as Jonah and the Fish was sweet! I'm glad I won best dressed because wearing that all day was hard work.

-Scott Smith (12)



I thought Homecoming went well, and my costume was obviously the best.

-Myles Wheeler (11)

Homecoming is always an exciting break for Nebraska Christian students. From designing crazy outfits to attending outlandish Pep Rallies, students know how to be creative and enjoy this week outside of the norm.

Of course, dressing up is the main attraction of Homecoming. Famous Pairs Day and Bible Character Day seemed to be the most interesting. Emily Simmons (11) and Amber Mazankowski (11) dressed up as Oreos and milk, which received runner up honors for Famous Pairs Day. Simmons said, "Famous Pairs day was a really fun idea! Amber and I were talking and she threw out the idea of Oreos and milk, so we went with it! It took several hours to paint and decorate, but it was definitely worth it."

For Bible Character Day, Scott Smith (12) dressed up as Jonah in the whale, literally! He said, "It started out as a hoola hoop and some blue plastic table covering. Then with a little tweaking and a lot of help from my sister (Miss Charissa Smith), we ended up with a big fish!" Smith won first place with his costume.

This year's Homecoming seemed to have everyone's attention and enthusiasm as they showed their school spirit. The pep rally was taken just a step above previous years since the whole school really got involved. Having boys play volleyball and girls put on football pads made for an exciting mass of cheers and laughter. Mymy Luu (12) said, "I really enjoyed the fact that I could be myself and show how intimidating I can be as a football player." Then the entire student body played a giant game of dodge ball. Since pep rallies tend to only involve a few people, the students enjoyed this change and had a good time.

All in all, the week was a strong success. Having a break from a normal week at school relieved a lot of stress and helped everyone grow closer together by having fun.

This year's student council (STUCO) was a refreshing group of individuals who brought life and new ideas to a sometimes stagnant team. They worked hard from day one in office and did much to unify a diverse student body. The group, led by Student Body President Sophia Songthangtham (12), Vice President Hans Epp (12), Treasurer Zoe Flynn (12), and Secretary Hannah Myers (12), put together events like the blood drive in January, a class-door-decorating-contest in December, pre-game pep rallies, ice-cream socials, and a class Olympic competition after this year's Sochi Winter Olympics.

Students loved the door-decorating-contest because it turned a hallway from bland to something that was alive with Christmas-Spirit. The pep rallies were given extra energy by new activities that pumped up both the crowd and the athletes. Ice cream socials were great breaks in long weeks that gave students a chance to get to know one another. This year's Homecoming was filled with more decorations and school spirit than this campus has seen in a long while, and we have the fantastic STUCO to thank for that.

Nebraska Christian offers many academic subjects, and one subject that has grown in recent years is Industrial Technology. Mr. David Gee became the Industrial Technology teacher when the program was revamped two years ago. Shyler Boutin (12), who has taken several of Gee's classes, said, "Mr. Gee is fun and scary at the same time." In Gee's classes, students learn how to work with the necessary tools and specific metals or wood. Brandon Brock (12) said, "It has expanded my knowledge about tools and way to do things." Gee often incorporates projects that will benefit the school into his curriculum. Tim Smith (12) said, "We helped redo the kitchen shelf and table." The Industrial Technology classes have also helped build the Press Box, the stand-up easels for speech, plyometric jump boxes for the weight room, and they are working on much more for the school.

One exciting development in Industrial Technology is the addition of a laser engraver. With a laser engraver, business, art, and Industrial Technology classes could work together, and it also could be a great fundraiser. The school purchased the laser engraver in the spring, and Gee is looking forward to utilizing it in and out of the classroom.

One of Gee's goals for the program is to help the students discover if they have a talent in Industrial Technology. If they do, Mr. Gee wants to help them realize that going to a two-year college can be just as good as going to a four-year university and can help them save money and allow them to begin work in their chosen field sooner.

In 2013-2014, 39 international students from the following countries joined the student body: Viet Nam, Taiwan, Japan, China, Korea and Thailand. Coming from many cultures, the international students embrace the difference and learn how to live together.

The international students study at Nebraska Christian Schools with the Americans. They live, play and study together throughout the year. Their friendships grow stronger every day as they think about each other like true friends. Isabella Yang (10) said, "Helping each other study is another way of getting to know each other better." Especially older students take the responsibility to help younger students on campus as well as in the dorm. "The second year at NC is quite different from last year because now that I am a senior, I have to be a good leader for the international students," said Bam Intuputi (12).

The international students also participated in many activities at school like drama, speech, cross country, basketball, track and music. Being in many activities with American friends, the students' friendships grew bigger and stronger. As they have more interactions with each other, students also understand each other more. Kamin Khobjai (8) shared, "Since I've come to NC, my English improved a lot, and I also have many friends from all over the world."

On campus, when someone has a problem, other students will try their best to help. International students' friendships grow stronger when they live and serve others as they care about each other like brothers and sisters.

against the norm

When Nebraska Christian was founded in 1959, it was because people wanted an alternative to public schools. They wanted their children growing up with a Christ-centered education. In the beginning, Nebraska Christian incorporated biblical truth in every aspect of education, and that tradition still stands today. Students come to Nebraska Christian knowing that they will be getting a Christian education. The school and the students make it clear to others that Nebraska Christian is not like most schools. "The basis of all that we do comes from God's word, so that reflects through students in things such as solving problems and helping out," Mr. Carl Ostrand explained. Everything that the students are taught is centered around Christ and the Bible's instructions for living life. That includes things such as a conflict students may have or even just simply how to be a friend to others.

The character of the students is different from other schools, and that is apparent in everywhere they go by showing respect and maturity. Most Nebraska Christian students have helping hearts and there can always be enough volunteers found for events such as the benefit auction Nebraska Christian holds each year. Positive feedback is always found to come back from those being served. Not only does positive feedback come from those being served, but also those serving. "Personally, I really enjoy serving at the Benefit Auction and the Harvest Festival and other events because it's a great opportunity to serve others and even be able to talk to other people that I don't get to see around that often," stated Emily Simmons (11).

It can be very hard to find young people willing to help for nothing in return, yet that never seems to be a problem at this school. Every year there are always students that step up and become leaders to help out the whole school and show other classmates how to lead and live in the Christian way. The ways that Nebraska Christian was built on in 1959 are still going strong today.

When asked about the process of forming a soccer team, team captain Chihoon Lee (12) responded, "We found a soccer league in order to play actual games in, and during the process, we discussed our options with Mr. Cumpston. We have gotten through the tough part, and look where we are now!"

During their practices, the players usually worked on stamina and techniques such as passing, dribbling, and shooting skills. They tried to focus on the areas that they had the most problems with and worked hard to get better.

the joy of creation

When people hear the word: "yearbook", they usually think of students passively sitting around and working with the computer; however, the 2014 yearbook members were more active than ever. The year started with the selling of ads, which was a chance for students to practice their marketing skills. Taylor Swantek (11), one of the top sellers, enthusiastically embraced the experience. "It was an opportunity for me to step out of my comfort zone and go talk to people," she said. The yearbook officers, as well as the people who sold the most ads, had a chance to go to the yearbook conference at the Columbus New World Inn. Eric Kim (12) said, "Conference was a great place to check out new things in yearbook. I appreciated our school giving me the chance to experience the conference."

Once the staffers sold as many advertisements as they could, it was time to start working. New yearbook staff members brought much creativity to the class. Bam Intuputi (12) shared, "Designing the yearbook layouts was quite challenging for me, especially the cover. I had so many ideas, but sometimes it was difficult to put all of that together." The students worked hard to finish their pages before the deadline, and most of the time, they were successful. Four students joined the class second semester, allowing the work to be more spread out. Talia Murphy (12), one of the new students, confessed about her experience doing yearbook, "I was assigned the Junior High sports page, which was hard because I don't know exactly what's going on in that area."

-Nhung Phan (12)

I enjoy taking many pictures for yearbook because I can keep NC memories about each event.

-Eric Kim (12)

It was a fun experience to learn how to approach people when selling things. I also liked getting out of school.

-Rachel McHargue (12)

Being editor is hard but also interesting because I get to read different styles of writing, and I get to say no a lot.

becoming media savvy

Right: Makenna Morris (12) discusses her latest blog article with Mr. Mark Leonard. Each week, the media students wrote an articles about things that had happened on campus.

In its second year of existence, the media class began to take on a distinct identity under the instruction of Mr. Mark Leonard. In addition to live streaming events for NC's Striv channel, the students wrote weekly blog posts for Nebraska Christian's website. Some of those posts were also used in the Advance, the school's quarterly newsletter that goes out to more than 2,000 people. The class also took on a major project--filming and editing a video called "We Are NC," which spotlighted all of the activities, sports, and groups on campus. Leonard said, "I saw a similar video that another school did, and I thought it would be a great way to promote NC." The film made its debut at the awards chapel at the end of the year.

Though the class was small with only three students in the fall semester and two students in the spring, Superintendent Josh Cumpston believes it will grow in the future. "Once students see the things they can do in media, I think many more will want to take the class, especially those who are interested in video," he said.

One way Cumpston and Leonard are trying to grow interest in the program is by recruiting students who are not in the class to help with the filming of live events. During the spring semester, Leonard took interested students to a social media conference hosted by Striv, and he hopes that many of those students will join the class in the future.

-Nhung Phan (12) & Miss Becky Ritta

I think being able to record games and to announce them are fun. Media challenges me to think out of the box.

-Makenna Morris (12)

Johnny was singing all the time, and also Mr. Leonard.

-Dan Tran (12)

Writing news for the school website is a good experience for me.

-Johnny Tseng (12)

It is hard to believe you are already a senior getting ready to graduate and start your own journey in life. It seems like just a few years ago, you were starting preschool. You were eager and ready for new adventures even then. You have grown from a cute, little girl to a beautiful and magnificent young woman. You are a wonderful daughter and person. We are so proud of you and all of the things you have accomplished, but most of all, we are proud of the young lady you have become. You are so smart and extremely talented, and you have a lot to offer the world. There is nothing you cannot do, so do not ever change. Do not ever lose your amazing faith and love for God. Always remember, with God, all things are possible. We love you more than you could ever imagine

It's hard to believe you are already a Senior. I remember taking you to your first day of kindergarten. You were brave and didn't cry; however, I did. I find myself crying again. You have truly blossomed into a beautiful young lady. You have been a blessing. You have truly honored your father and mother, which is God's first commandment with promise. 2014 starts a new chapter in your life. You have absorbed the foundation of a promise that will be fulfilled.

Congratulations, we are very proud of you!!!

Hija, le doy gracias a Dios por tu graduación. Solo te pido que nunca dejes de soñar, que siempre sueñes con un futuro, que siempre tengas fe en ti misma, que creas en ti: en tus deseos, en tus propósitos y en tus sueños de triunfar. Que tus sueños no tengan fronteras ni límites. Siempre vive con el amor de Dios. Nunca te sueltes de Él, que siempre te llevará de su mano. Siembra en tu camino sueños y deseos de lucha.

¡Felicidades!

Kaylee Elizabeth Holliday

Baby girl,

18 years we've had to prepare ourselves for this day, well 18 years is NOT enough... You are our daughter and no matter where life takes you as long as your mom and dad are here, you will always have shelter from any storm. You are one of God's brightest stars, and as long as you trust and believe in him for direction he will be with you, always! We are proud of you! That young beautiful sweet girl set out in 4th grade to be an honor student that year and she did so year after year, she wanted to learn to shoot a bow and became a dead aim shot, loves reading and playing ball, loves riding ATV's and playing X-box with her brothers. No matter what you're doing Kaylee, you have never forgotten family values and that spending quality time together comes first. You have made an excellent role model for us all.!

We Love You Kaylee!

Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding.

We have watched you grow from a sweet giggling little girl to a beautiful smart young woman. It's hard to believe that this is your senior year. The years have really flown by and there are so many memories. The trips to the convenience store to get parrot ices, the "talks" we would have after leaving daycare, and finally the discussions at the dinner table about evry day happenings. We look foward to the future and what it may bring.

Abbey,

Now I know what all those people close to me meant when they said, "I can't believe you're 18!" Now, 8 years later, I look at you and think the same thing. The last few years have flown by and I've watched you grow and mature from a fiery little red-headed girl to an outspoken, strong-willed, beautiful woman. I'm so proud of you for all of your accomplishments and look forward to what I know will be the best years of your life. Just remember, no matter how old you are, you'll always be that little three year old girl who stumbles into my room at two in the morning to climb into my bed...

And I will always be your sissy. Love you always.

From Mom

Chavis, watching you grow up throughout the years has truly been rewarding to me. As your mother, I am happy to say that the joy that you have brought to the entire family had been amazing. It seems as if it was only yesterday that you left Fort Valley State University's Montessori and Pre-K programs to journey through your wonderful years in the Peach County Public School System.

There has never been a dull moment while living with you. Bobby, Keldrick, and I agree that you are very amusing, smart, and talented. You know when to be serious; yet you always keep the family laughing.You are truly a comedian.

As I watched you participate throughout the years in things such as baseball, basketball, football, and track, I can honestly say that I have seen an ongoing level of maturity. I am proud of your leadership role as Associate Superintendent of Sunday School.

From your funny faces, to your hiding places, things will definitely not be the same when you go off to the University of Central Florida in Orlando. While you are away, I am going to enjoy looking at the pictures and videos of all the activities in which you have participated throughout the years. This will always keep me reliving the moments that I will forever cherish. All of your hard work has truly made me proud. I LOVE YOU CHAVIS!!! Thanks, also for proudly wearing #79!

Remembering Our Journey...

Cecilia Aguliar- I remember when Luis asked me out and then the happiest moments of my high school began.

Martin Alcantar- I remember the PCHS Soccer team made it to the second round of playoffs. We made school history.

Thomas Alexander- I remember when I didn't do anything and still passed all my classes.

Autumn Avant- I remember the first time I cheered at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta.

Katelyn Ball- I remember meeting Mrs. Phillips for the first time. I thought she was mean in the hallways but she's great.

DeAngelo Banks- I remember when I was in the 9th grade, all the senior pranks they did were hilarious.

Jariah Barnes- I remember when I was scared to talk to guys.

Tiara Bell- I remember when I met my best friend my freshman year; Kellie Mathews.

Da'Monica Bennett- I remember my first day of high school.

Adam Boyd- I remember my whole 9th grade, when nobody knew my name, only Biffle.

Gage Brody- I remember when I first drove to school in my own car; I thought I was so cool.

Justin Brown- I remember when I first walked these halls my freshamn year and everybody was so much bigger than me.

Lindsey Brown- I remember when the door to the upstairs storage room broke in the band room and me and all the trumpets were stuck in there for at least an hour until "Mr. Fix It" (Mr. Tony English) came and busted down the door.

Sha- Deana Brown- I remember when my best friends made me laugh in class at inappropiate times.

Micah Caldwell- I remember when i came to this school. . yeah that was this year #newsenior.

Victoria Canady- I remember in 9th grade I became close with four people who impacted my life so much and I love them.

Colton Cason- I remember when we made it to the DOME. It was a great experience.

Stephanie Cervantes- I remember when I would use the computer and I would play games and do other stuff instead of work and my teacher always caught me on Dyknow.

Kasi Clark- I remember when i fell in front of a crowd during half time when I was performing at a home game.

D'yvonte Collins- I remember when I first came here I didn't really associate myself with anybody, but now the whole school cool with me.

Jamorian Cooper- I remember when I got promoted to the ninth grade, finally made it.

Kelsey Cowan- I remember whenever I needed help with anything, Mr. Aaron was there for me.

China Crafter- The most memorable moment was when we went to the dome in 2010 and I had a chance to perform live.

Kelley Criss- I remeber when I performed at my very first football game as a Golden Girl.

Taylor Davis- I remember when first lunch , 11th grade year, had a food fight and I helped start it so I had lunch duty for a week.

Chavis Dickey- I remember early in my senior year. I ran into my teams quarterback and tackled hiim by mistake.

Alyssa Donalson- I remember my freshman year we video chatted more than we did our work.

JaDavia Drakeford- I remember when Deja, Keekee, Nia, and I sat together at lunch everyday Junior year.

Drenay Everett- I remember when school got out at 4:15 p.m. and we had no school on Monday's.

Austin Flournoy- I remember when Donquavious shared his mashed potatoes with me.

Selena Fluellen- I remember when I marched in the DOME with the band my 10th grade year.

Jadia Freeman- I remember the first day of my 9th grade year, I was ready for success.

James Frost- I remember one day when I was in automotive class with Mr. Rick and it was my first time putting a motor in a car.

Luis Galan- I remember the first goal I ever made for the Peach County soccer team. It was satisfying to say the least.

Lana Gassett- I remember going to watch the Trojans play in the dome.

Tyler Gibson- I remember my first year here like it was yesterday.

CLASS OF 2014

Jacob Hatton- I remember when I was in the tenth grade and the baseball team played Veterans High for the last game of the season and we beat them, which ended up being the biggest upset of the season!

Haley Helton- I remember when I painted up in 10th grade and we looked splotchy.

Caitlyn Hicks- I remember when. . . We didn't have uniforms, and school was only 4 days a week. What happened?

Demeishia Hicks- I remember my first day at Peach County High School. I was very lost, scared, and confused.

Shanandra Hillman- I remember when Ms. Lycett's door that leads outside opened by itself.

Dlwyn Hillsman- I remember how different everything felt on my first day of high school.

Dorothy Hilton- I remember when Mrs. Bobbitt was trying to explain and do "Quote fingers", well let's just say her left hand didn't cooperate.

Kaylee Holiday- I remember when the softball team made Trojan softball history by making it to the sweet sixteen.

Cierra Howard- I remember when I first came to PCHS my senior year. It was a long journey but I made it. Class of 2014.

Cherokee Jackson- I remember when i was in Math II and I met the most awesome people ever . . Isang, Taylor Jewell, Haley, Fernando, Jeard.

Michael Jackson- I remember when I first met Nate Howell, I'll never forget the day I shook hands with the man that inspired and continues to inspire my pursuit of a musical career. People like him deserve everything they strive for because he works HARD. I love music more than ever now.

Corey Jernigan- I remember when Mr. Mackey did the Bernie at the pep rally my 11th grade year.

Jiquetta Jones- I remember when I was in 10th grade, being on the varsity cheerleading squad, and our football team successfully made it to the dome!

Khadijah Jones- I remember when my cousin, Brandon Jones, class of 2012 was dancing as one of the cheerleaders at the powderfuff games.

Modesty Jones- I remember when I first came over from middle school, I was so nervous, now I'm a senior, man time is flying.

T'Anna Jordan- I remember when I was a freshman and some classmates and I were playing cards in Bio-Ag, Blease George threw some gum on Alexis Zeigler's, and she threw the deck of cards at him and screamed "That was so nasty! You are so nasty!"

Cole Keene- I remember when we did not have dress code.

Mon'Kia King- I remember when I won Miss Freshman.

Jacob Kirby- I remember when I first walked in the doors, scary. Now to be leaving the other way, just as scary as before.

Caroline Layfield- I remember when I got to dance at the dome during halftime at the state championship game my sophomore year.

Azael Leal- I remember when we had a food fight in the cafeteria.

Chelsey Leary- I remember when I had classes with seniors when I was a freshman. I felt so young and gullible. I was nervous!

Nia Lewis- I remember when in 9th grade, we went to Sandy Creek for the last round of the playoffs and lost and all the football players were crying.

Luis Lopez- I remember hanging out under the tree in the courtyard with my buddies.

Gabryella Lopez- I remember when someone started a food fight, my junior year. All the girls hid under the table.

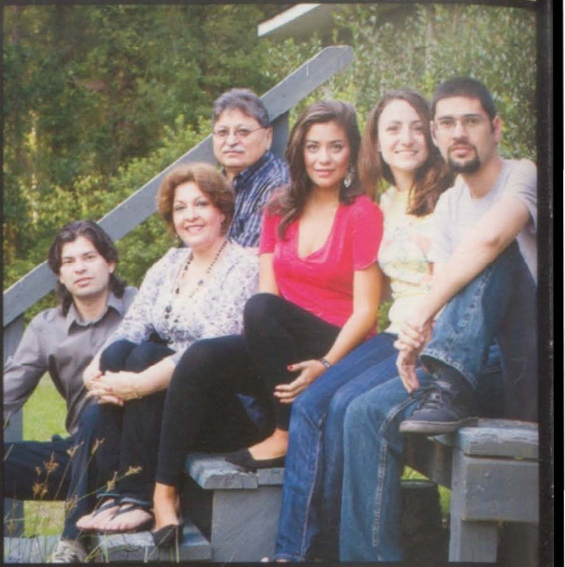
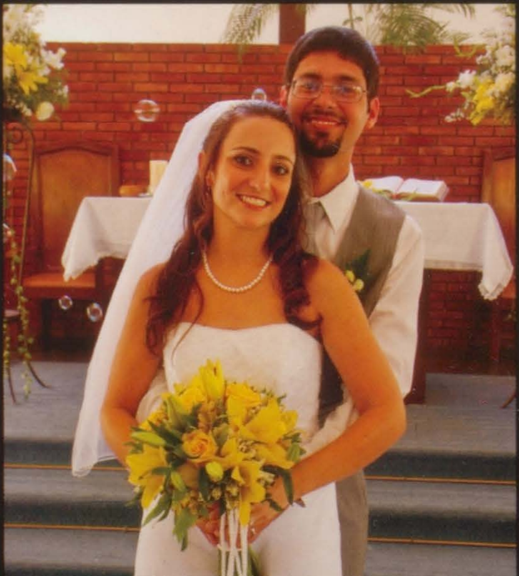
Winter Wishes



Mrs. Jaimes has taught at Peach County High School for the past two years. She loves to see her students showing enthusiasm for learning. She has followed in her mother's footsteps who was a teacher. She did not exactly want her daughter to become a teacher, but little does she know, that actually pushed her to become one. Mrs. Jaimes fell in love with teaching after being a substitute. "Seeing my students prosper and being excited is such a treat to me!"



PCHS Rookie Teacher of The Year

Mrs. Deborah Jaimes

Peach County High School
Teacher of the Year

Mrs. Martha Elliott-Green

Mrs. Green has been teaching in the Peach County school system for 18 years. She graduated from Woodbury High with no idea of becoming a teacher. She attended Morris Brown College as a Biology major, but later changed it to Education after a few conversations with some of her friends. Mrs. Green loves working with young children. "I am a care giver. I love helping people. Everyone has a gift and mine happens to be helping children with disabilities", she says. The joy Mrs. Green gets out of teaching is like no other; it's a sense of fulfillment and pride. Seeing her former kids return and sharing their success with her is amazing. "If they are successful, so am I." Mrs. Green is not only a great teacher, she is also the proud mother of four foster sons. She loves each of them as her own, just as she loves her students!

Learning Today...

Advanced Placement (AP) is a program that was created by the College Board for high school students. The program offers a college-level curriculum and examinations to potentially receive college credit towards post-secondary education. At Peach County High School seven different Advanced Placement courses are offered with future growth expected. Students excel in these courses and prove to anyone that hard work eventually pays off. Students are not only capable of completing the work, but they often surpass the high expectations of their teachers!

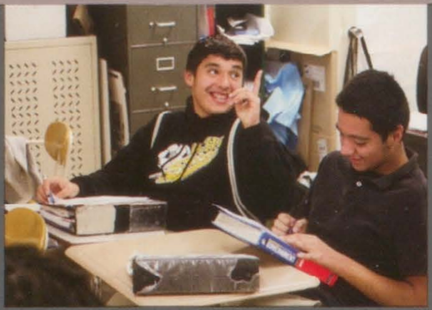
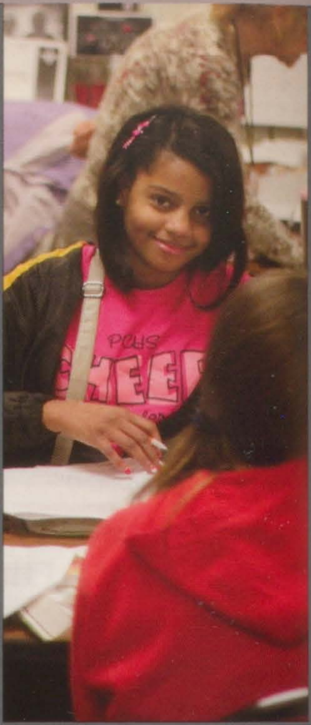
An Early Step... TROJAN



(Above): Brandon Ortiz comes up with a brilliant idea. While he is known for his intelligence, he seems to always brighten up the classroom with his sense of humor.



A nearby extension to Peach County High School, the Trojan Academy has done a great job in preparing incoming freshmen for the years ahead at PCHS. Deputy Principal, Rodney Hester ensured that his students were prepared before they transitioned to the main campus. Students recognized the importance of this procedure to prepare for the future. They accomplished this all while having fun and being whimsical in the process.

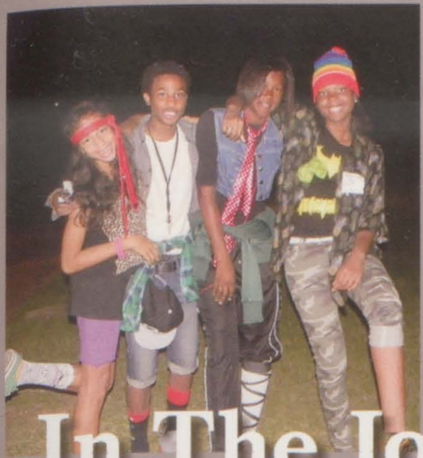
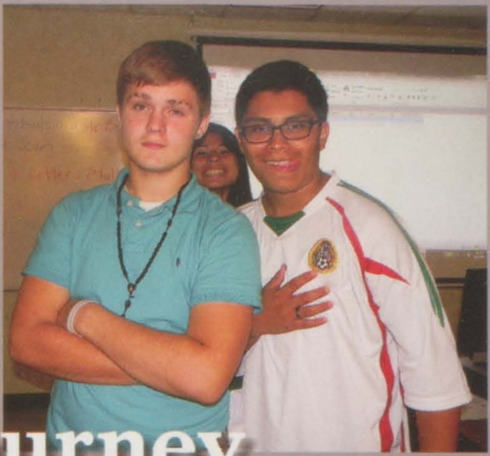
Student Ambassadors

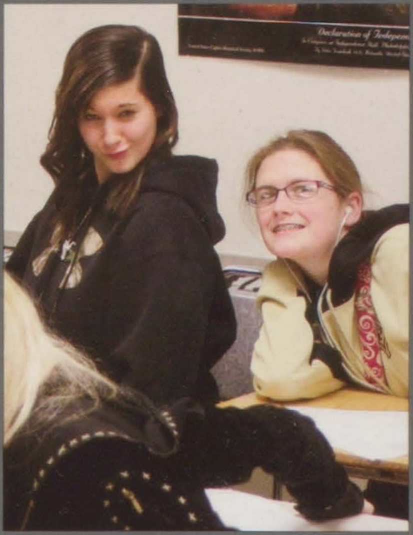




In The Journey ACADEMY

Though our 9th grade counterparts have years ahead of them, they are going to succeed and exceed all expectations laid before them and rise to the top.

(Below) Mimi Campbell and Sarah Pate playfully pose. Somehow, these two girls always find a way to keep the school day spunky. Even on their worst days, happiness seems to radiate from them and their silly shenanigans.



Wait just a second, what happened to Thing One? One of the dubious dynamic duo of Dr. Seuss' famous works seems to have gone missing! Still we find Thing Two with a ginormous grin on her bright face. Reagan Freeman doesn't need her other half to have a good time.

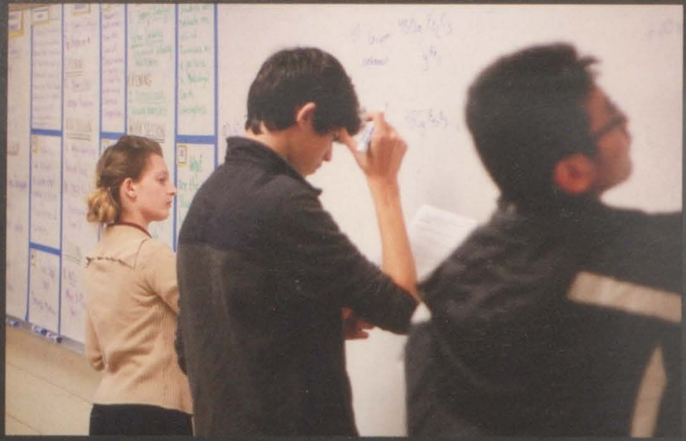
STEM Is On a Road to Success



SHOW

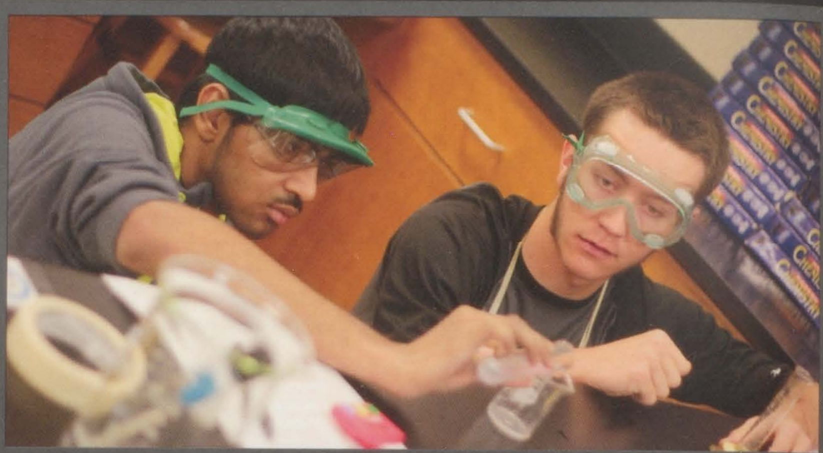
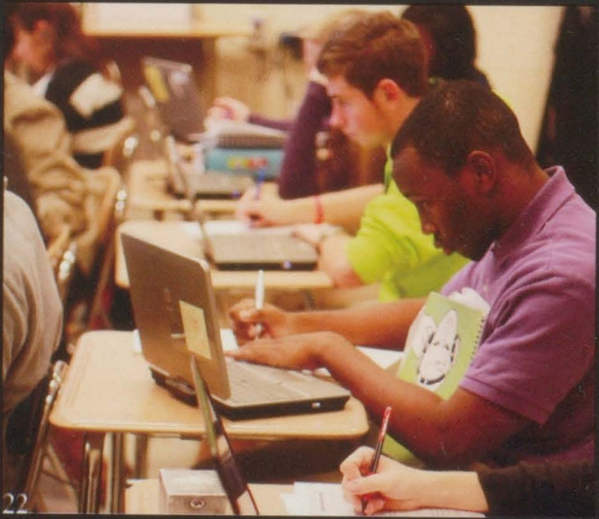
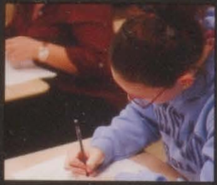
KNOW

The STEM Academy is steadily growing and Deputy Principal, Dr. Anita Mathis makes sure that it is moving forward at a rapid rate. Students of the STEM Academy are safe under the umbrella of her leadership as she pushes them toward success in this ever-changing technological world. STEM attracts students who thrive in Science and Math; however, that does not mean that students are all work and no play. Each individual in the STEM Academy is what gives it its personality. Focus and Fun mixed together is what makes the STEM Academy unique!



If Mrs. Clark is talking, then it's best to start taking notes and listening, especially if it's related to the next assignment. Students made sure to tune in if they wanted to excel.



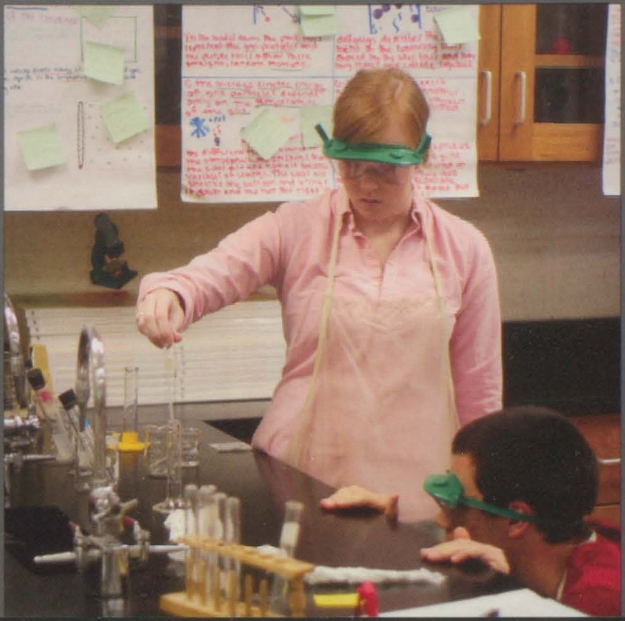


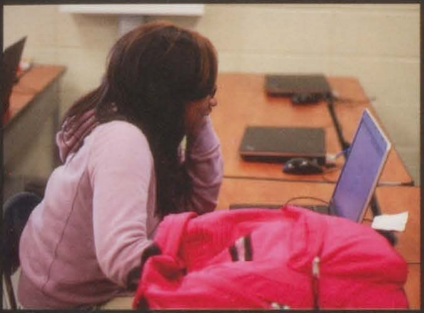
Make sure to clean up after a lab, or Mrs. Clark will surely get you for it.

Mrs. Clark's AP Chemistry class dons their spiffy lab apparel to prepare for the next lab.

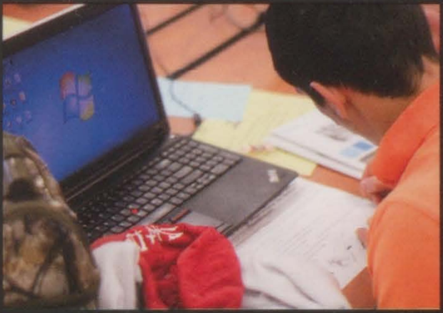
A burst of productivity in the classroom is always welcome, especially with students as advanced as these.

Dusting for fingerprints is an extremely useful tool in forensic science, and Chyna Wright and Nietaya Robinson are doing a great job.





Concentration is key when trying to focus on your task at hand, and Janiqua Knowlton is in deep concentration.



It's always best to get started on your work as fast as possible, and do your best on all assignments.

Success is a Science; if you have the conditions, you get the result.
-Oscar Wilde

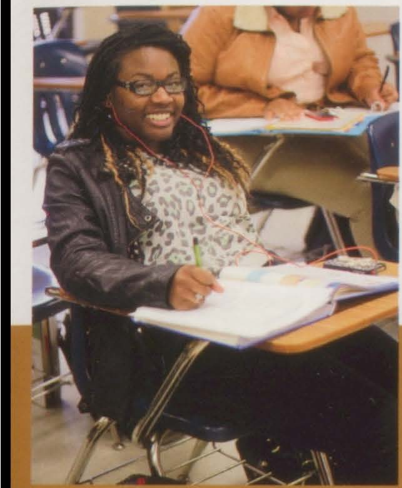
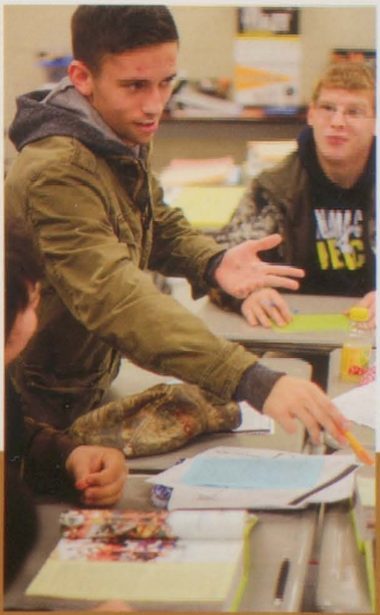
Jac'Quinneisha Cherry and AnaKaren Martinez trying to squeeze in those last critical words to their paper just before the bell rings.

Khadijah Jones and Catherine Nesbitt know what it takes to "Make it happen (Snappin')!"

Senior, Nia Lewis enjoys being in College and Careers because it gives her access to the Art room and her creativity.

STEM does not own the only acronym at Peach County High School. The College and Career Academy has adopted "ROOT" (Real-life Opportunities, Open To everyone)!" Deputy Principal, Jason Flanders has big plans for the academy, which has students and teachers excited! From the looks of things, his plans are well on their way!





My favorite thing about The College and Career Academy!

"My favorite part about the College and Career Academy is the classes that are offered, the counselors, and the students. And of course the Yearbook Staff!"

-Aja Clark

" My favorite thing about the College and Career Academy is the Intro to Business Class with Mr. Lassetter"

-Tyler Daniely

"My favorite thing about the College and Careers Academy is Mrs. Hatchett! I adore her!"

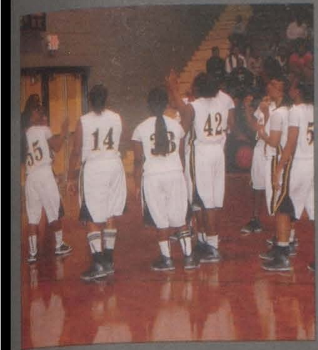
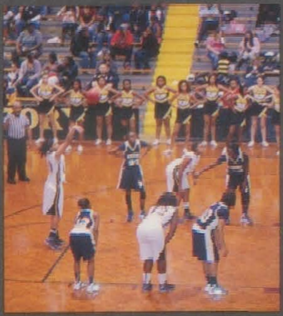
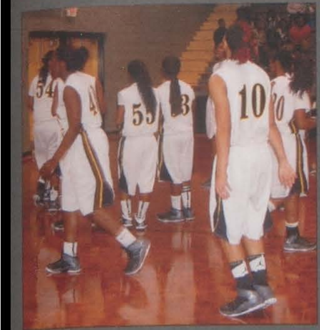
Trojans are protective of their home court! "We must protect this house!"





This season our Lady Trojan basketball team did an extraordinary job in their season being the number one seed in their region and making it all the way to the Sweet Sixteen!

These young ladies had a successful twenty-two win season. Our Lady Trojans worked very hard this past season. The legacy of champions continues...



WINNERS DON'T WAIT FOR CHANCES . . . THEY TAKE THEM.

Time to reflect and make sure the next move is the right move. The lady Trojans had a successful season because they were coached by a 28 year veteran and they took on her tenacious mind set to get the job done!

The Lady Trojans charge down the court with a look of determination. Their only objective was to get the ball back and make the shot for our headstrong Lady Trojans.

Alexia Green relentlessly defended against the Perry Panther's point gaurd to insure the mighty Trojans dominated once agian.

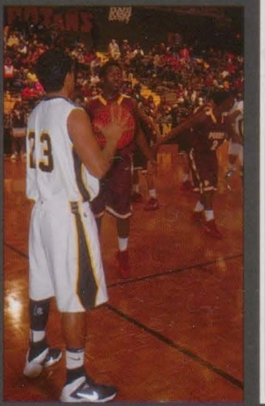
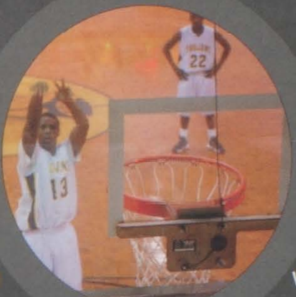
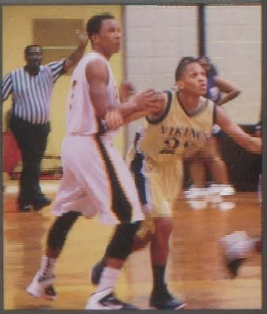
Sophomore, Robert Allen, has his inbounding skills down packed. The Trojans must maintain possession of the ball.



This Trojan basketball season started off like any other would. Tryouts where held, practices were held, and then then season was off. The Journey had begun...



Not just any team of young men can wake up and be prepared to take their team to state play-offs. It takes skilled, professional, and athletic young men to do such a thing. Luckily Peach County had an entire team of hard-working young men!



Waiting for the ball to be put into play Darrell, Saire, and Laquaylo are so very intently strategizing the next play to be made to help them win the game. People do not realize it, but a mental game can be more important than a physical game when you play at this level.

I TREAT IT LIKE EVERYDAY IS MY LAST WITH A BASKETBALL

Taylor County was "flabbergasted" at the fact that our Trojans are so fast that they became just a blur rushing by them! Now you see it, now you don't!

Stand tall, Talk small, Play ball

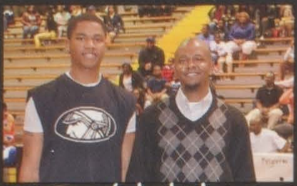
Never underestimate the heart of a champion. Sometimes a player's greatest challenge is coming to grips with their role on the team. What you are as a person is far more important than what you are as a basketball player.

Jasmine Brown

"We all come together to form a family," says Jasmine. When she began playing her freshmen year she realized that she had more than one family. Before every game she listened to music to clear her mind. She has hopes of one day playing ball at the next level.

In four full years of playing basketball ZaCorey never went a game without praying. He says that basketball has made him stronger and helped him to become a young adult. He plans to play basketball at the next level.

Zacorey Hart



Daniel Clark

Every since his freshman year Daniel played basketball. One thing that playing helped him to do was his school work. Basketball also increased his stamina and pushed him to work hard at anything he does. Daniel prayed before every game to keep him and his teammates safe.

Bethany has played basketball for four years. Although her baskeball journey ended with high school, she says that basketball at PCHS has showed her how to be fully dedicated and not be afraid. Before every basketball game she prayed for herself and her team.

Bethany Mathis

Selena Fluellen

Selena played basketball for the Trojans for two years. She said that playing helped her to be disciplined and more committed to life. Before every game Selena recited her favorite Bible verse which is Philippians 4:13.

Michael was a dedicated player for Peach County High since 2011. He says when he first started he wasn't really aware of new people and new surroundings. He soon became well aware of new people. He plans to continue playing basketball in college and wants to attend Georgia Southern.

Michael Jackson

Bruce Lowe

Basketball seemed to keep him from trouble. Bruce played basketball for four years and knew his senior year would be his last. He plans to go into the military. He enjoyed the brotherhood of the basketball team over the years.

After four hard years of playing for Peach County, Khadisja plans to continue playing at Middle Georgia Tech. Before every game she listened to a song called "Last Chance" by Nicki Minaj to help her game mentally. Playing for Peach County really taught her how to accept others.

Khadisja Armstrong

Chelsey Leary

When she first started in the ninth grade Chelsey was not aware of others and using teamwork. After four years, she became aware and appreciative. Although she will not continue playing, basketball taught her alot of discipline.

Art: As Albert Einstein has stated: "The true sign of intelligence is not knowledge but imagination" and these students have imagination galore. Creating breathtaking pieces of art is their job, and they fulfill their duties. Beyond their goals in high school art, each and every student has designed a personal plan to last not only through college, but all through their life. Winning several awards, the art program here at Peach County is definetly something to be proud of.

Natalie McEver is shown with her empty container of what were Devils Food cake cookies. Everyone seems to love chocolate.

Miriam made a classic peanut buter cookie, and everyone enjoyed it.

Bethany baked Pecan Praline cookies for the staff to eat.

SKILLS USA TEAM

Peach County's Automotive teams are headed by veteran instructor, Mr. Johnny Rickerson (left). For years, sports have dominated Peach County, but the Skills USA team is the ultimate sport and the community has recognized its the dawn of a new age. The Skills USA Team at Peach County is in a class of their own. Divided into two strong teams: The Royal Purple Team and and the bright orange, Mr. Gasket team. This past year both teams made their way back to Indianapolis, Indiana, where the National Championship was held for 2013. For the competition, the teams are instructed to disassemble and reassemble a small-block Chevrolet engine with aftermarket components in the fastest time. In the event held in December, the Peach County teams placed fifth and sixth out of hundreds of schools from all over the country. We could not be more proud of our Trojans!

The Royal Purple Team consists of PCHS graduate Billy Tolbert, Hunter Willis, Wesley Tribble, Devan Smith, and Preston Kersey. The Mr. Gasket Team members are Daniel Mayorquin, Kyle Windham, Caleb Carter, Dakota Ezell and Henry Staples. The alternate for both teams is Tyler Mossman.

MR. VICTOR HEDGPETH

2014 YEARBOOK DEDICATION

Victor Hedgpeth is a Soccer coach, Math teacher, and seven year veteran of Peach County High School. He formerly served in the United States Air Force. He is a loving husband and dedicated father of three. He has a special ability to help students reach their highest level of potential. He never fails to exceed. Mr. Hedgpeth's favorite quote is; "Anything worth having is worth fighting for." We are forever grateful for his hard work and dedication to Peach County High School. He's a great coach and an enthusiastic leader. Both the students and the PCHS family look up to Coach Hedgpeth. Thank you for being a fantastic Trojan! You are awesome!

Remembering the Journey

Student Life

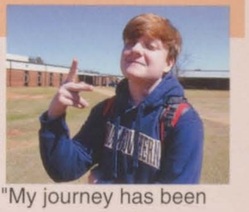
As we glide through time, we gather hundreds of life defining memories. The memories that seem to be the most emotionally touching to us all appear to take place in the halls of Peach County High School. As the last few days of school dwindle down, each student reminisced over their time spent building friendships and creating stories they will one day share with loved ones. It may seem as though the years lasted forever. However, all soon realized just how fast time flies.

Loving each and every moment we encountered, students slowly developed a strong desire to never let go of Peach County. However, the time soon came to realize that one never is required to actually let go. One simply just just has to always remember this time in their hearts, while moving on in life. Luckily, photographs and documents will create a long lasting, and almost invincible field around the life everyone left behind.

Remembering the time spent in Peach County High School is one of the sweetest, most valuable privileges. As the students propel in their dreams and goals, the flashback of living life throughout the halls of the school and really thriving in the classrooms will strike and bring forth happiness. Passion and respect for Peach County High School will forever be a trait carried in the hearts of the students that have all come to know and love one another so much.

Jaiarus and Jacarus Leary

"We have found good friends among the wolves of the school."



Micah Caldwell

"My journey has been crazy moving between three different schools."

Dakayla Hamm

"I've had a lot of fun meeting so many new people!"

Natalie McEver

"So far, high school has actually been pretty wild!"

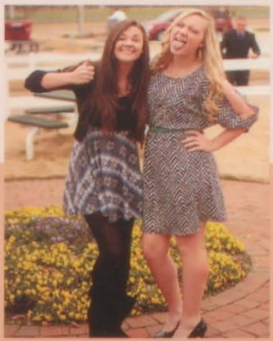
Nia Lewis

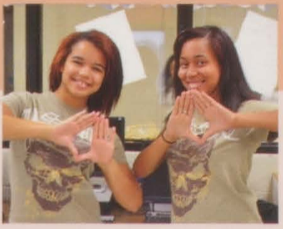
"My journey has been...well, it's a long story!"

Luis Medina and Cecilia Aguilar

"We enjoy coming to school daily just to see each other."

Accepting the circumstance that the majority of students at Peach County High School have true grasps of the concept "living life to the fullest," spotting those who were trying to showcase this attitude appeared more often than in any other usual school. Here, everyone illuminated amusing and entertaining behaviors. The idea of never wanting to let a dull moment pass seemed to have been the motto of these well entwined, family-like students. Whether the teenagers of Peach County have the desire to be heroic or to become major inspirations for others, a massive variety of goals and aspirations are held high in value and will, one day, be achieved. The decisions that were made reflect what genre of life will one day consume each of us individually. Those who live life joyously tend to make greater, wiser decisions, and simply create a happier life style. The students at Peach County certainly possess this proud, exciting way of living. Doubt in these students carrying onward with stories and experiences like no other does not exist. The time to absorb, savor, and take advantage of each and every moment of life currently takes place in the heart of the school. These actions only determined a more electrifying and memorable journey.





The bonds created between students throughout the years are stronger than ever. With a journey full of surprises and exciting moments, we've all realized that we are individuals who have formed a mighty battle to go up against the world and our futures together. We look forward to the day that we are able to reunite once again and recollect our high school days. While seniors are now moving onward into the world, freshmen are just beginning their travels. We have created some of the best memories of our lives. With our future voyages and goals on our minds, we will one day happily look back on the life changing events of our past that took place here at Peach County High School.

Getting comfortable around Peach County High School, the journey of this young fellow has been quite a productive one. "It has been an exciting experience becoming who I truly am."

- Russell River

The endeavors of this chap have been set and will certainly, one day, be accomplished. "The journey is fairly easy as long as you stay focused and have fun!"

- Wayne Rhoden

Miss Cassie has shared that her venture through high school thus far has been very helpful. She has truly bettered herself as an artist this year.

- Cassie Sizemore

Trying to always live life on the silly side, this comical student has loved the voyage through his four years at Peach County. "Don't worry about what other people think, just make sure you're happy!"

- Tyler Gibson

Moving between schools, the travel through high school has been very...unusual for this girl! "So far, it has been crazy, stressful, and frightening, yet fun!"

- Danielle Hardin

Spring is a miraculous experience. The whole world comes alive after the winter in which it seemed that everything was stood still. The world comes filled with color and the scent of delicious greenery. The world that seemed so dull and cold has come alive once again. Little did we know that beneath the cold hard ground the plants and trees were preparing for rebirth. Spring gives us hope for rejuvenation in our own lives as well. Spring is a time to renew the excitement and zest for life that lives inside.

Spring Season

2014 Under Armour Pre-season All-American,

Grant Perry

The season had not yet started, and Grant Perry began making headlines early. He was honored as an Under Armour Pre-season All-American. He made us proud as he traveled to Tuscon, Arizona to compete against young men from all over the country. Never intimidated, Grant took the field with the same tenacity he displayed as a Trojan. Grant your journey has definitely begun...

SMACK! The crack of a bat is a common sound at Anderson Feild, where the amazing Peach County High School baseball team seems to always dominate. These dilligent young men sprint, slide, and hit like no other team has before. The Trojans this year have been a complete success. All the hardwork and sweat paid off this season. You can see the pure joy and love for the game on each player's face. Each have the eyes of determination.

Senior, Austin Webb, swings too fast to see. His bat is like a blur in the wind as he connects with the ball, sending it to the out field.

Chilling Out in the Dug Out

These hardworking athletes have a passion to be on the field, but the intense comradery is expressed in the dug out. Though the team remains serious throughout games, smiles and kind expressions are thrown around on a regular basis. Sometimes, the intensity of the game may seem overwhelming, but all of the guys know how to make each other to grin.

Second Base, Justin Brown

The stunningly atheletic, Justin Brown, seems to skillfully portray the abilty to transfer the fundamentals into pure talent. He beams with confidence as he takes the field, yet stands firm in his humbleness. The Peach County High School baseball team should consider themselves lucky to have such talent on their team.

We are the Mighty Trojans!

The Peach County High School varsity baseball team knows how to bring the heat. When it comes to winning, they always come out on top. The success that the team has can be acredited to the intense love that they each have for the game of baseball. The emotion is shown in the way they play their most beloved sport.

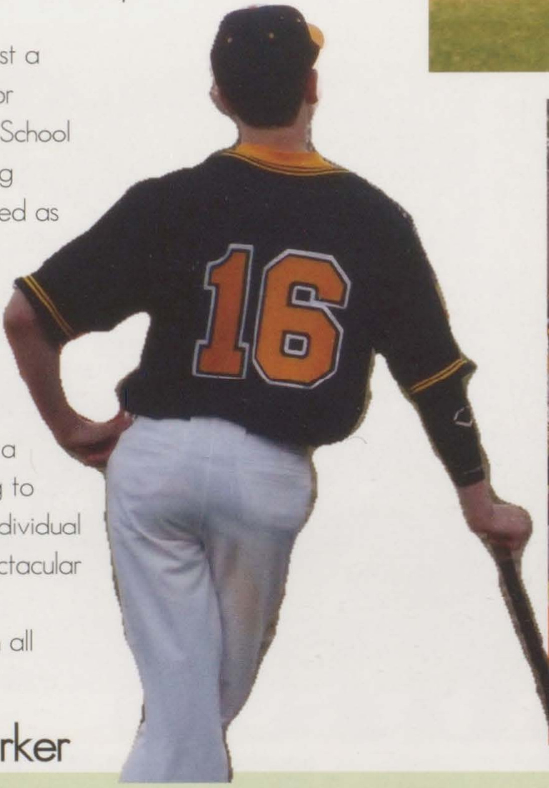
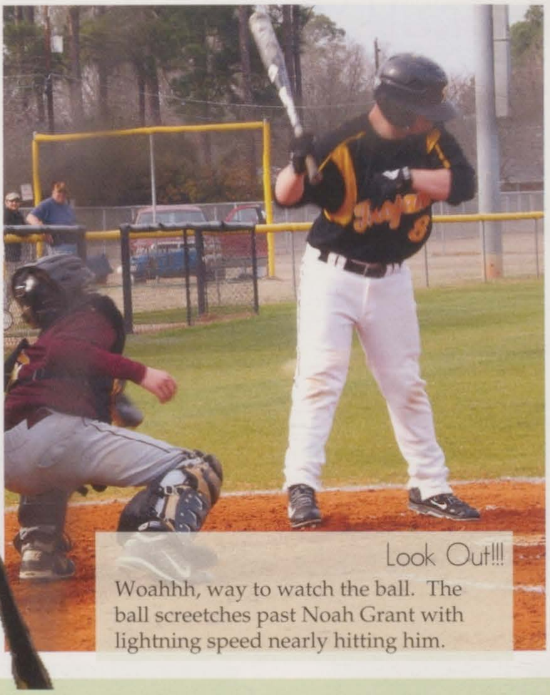
Junior Varsity

Baseball. It is more than a sport.

This team stands for more than just a group of baseball players. The Junior Varsity team of Peach County High School represents a family of talented young athletes. A sense of pride is displayed as they prepare for each and every game. They fully support their teammates. Giving all the effort they have at games and practices allows them to become the best. Adoration for the game gives them a drive to play absolutely every inning to their best abilities. The amount of individual dedication adds up to create a spectacular selection of players. This common dedication creates a bond between all these skilled guys.

Head Coach: Keith Barker

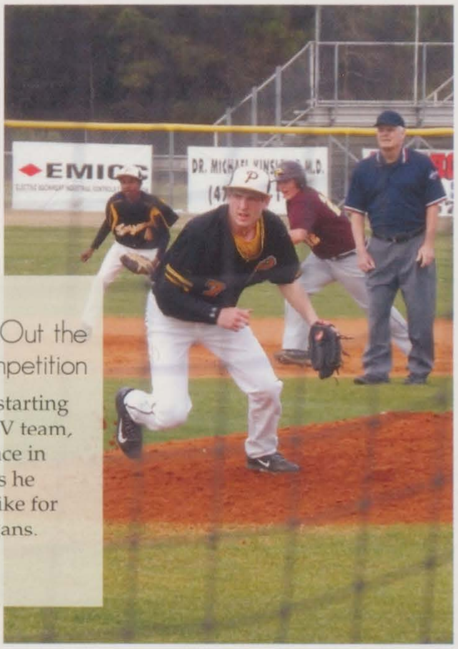




Look Out!!!

Woahhh, way to watch the ball. The ball screetches past Noah Grant with lightning speed nearly hitting him.

2013-2014

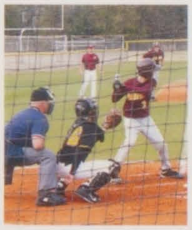


Striking Out the Competition

Skyler Nelson, starting pitcher for the JV team, scrunches his face in concentration as he grunts out a strike for the Mighty Trojans.

"Huddle up, guys!" Our talented Trojans come together to scheme out the offensive game plan.

Hunter Wellons is down and ready for the ball. Anticipation fills him every time the ball is hit across the sky.



Whether it's determining the hitter's weak spots or even blocking up the plate, catcher, Cody Scott, amazes everyone with his skill.

It seems that the umpire would get tired of yelling out, "STRIKE", but Skyler Nelson insures he has to everytime.

Kavon Kellogg prepares for a lined ground ball. Somehow, he always seems to draw the attention of the ball to himself at short stop.

Noah Grant stands in the batter box and anticipates the pitcher's throw. Will it be a curve ball, screw ball, or fast ball?

Above:Just Kick'n it! Jessica Angeles focuses on getting the perfect kick right before the game.
Left: Off guard much? We catch Claire Story getting some individual practice before the game.
Below: What's soccer without the fun? Hannah shows us some epic spirit before game begins

The Lady Trojan Varsity Soccer team strategizes how to dominate our long time rivals the Perry Panthers. "Defense is always the way to go" Coach Langley stresses to the girls at half-time.

It's that feeling you get once you step on the field.The rush of adrenaline. The feeling of knowing that your at the right place, at the right time. The silence before the whistle. The moment your feet touch that ball. That's the passion behind soccer.

SOPHOMORE SENSATION

"BEING ON VARSITY WAS ONLY MY BIGGEST DREAM LAST YEAR.THIS YEAR IT WAS ALL ABOUT IMPROVING MYSELF." JESSICA SHARES WITH US. FROM THE FIRST KICK, TO THE LAST GOAL MADE, THOSE CHILLY NIGHTS, AND HARD WORK OUTS, BEING ON THE FIELD MAKES IT ALL WORTH IT.

JUNIOR FEVER

"I WAS SO EXCITED WHEN I SAW THAT I MADE THE VARSITY TEAM THIS YEAR!", CHELSEY RUSSELL SAYS EXCITEDLY. SHE ALWAYS LOVED THE GAME, AND BEING ON THE FIELD, BUT BEING WITH PEOPLE WHO LOVES THE GAME AS MUCH AS SHE DOES IS WHAT MATTER THE MOST TO HER

CHAMPIONS ARE MADE FROM SOMETHING DEEP DOWN INSIDE OF THEMSELVES; A DESIRE, A DREAM, AND A VISION.

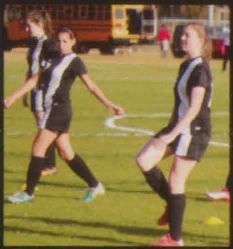
Endless Journey...

Senior soccer player Cecilia Aguilar shares her excitement for her European journey!

The journey continues! Cecilia says that after she graduates she plans to spen her summer in Europe. "I am going to be playing with the U-19 USA Elite Soccer Team." For those of you who don't know, they are a very prestigious team. After that she plans to enroll into college and major in nursing

SOCCER MOMS

Every team needs their #1 support system. These ladies are the infamous Lady Trojans Varsity Team #1 fans. They are very dedicated to the long car rides, and chill games. They would go the extra mile to make sure the girls feeled loved.



Above: Pulling a muscle isn't fun. We catch the girls midway through their normal stretching routine. Left: Go Miranda! The girls scream as Miranda successfully gets the ball away from the opponent.

Just Kickin' It!

"Success is no accident. It is hard work, perseverance, learning, studying, sacrifice and most of all, love of what you are doing or learning to do."

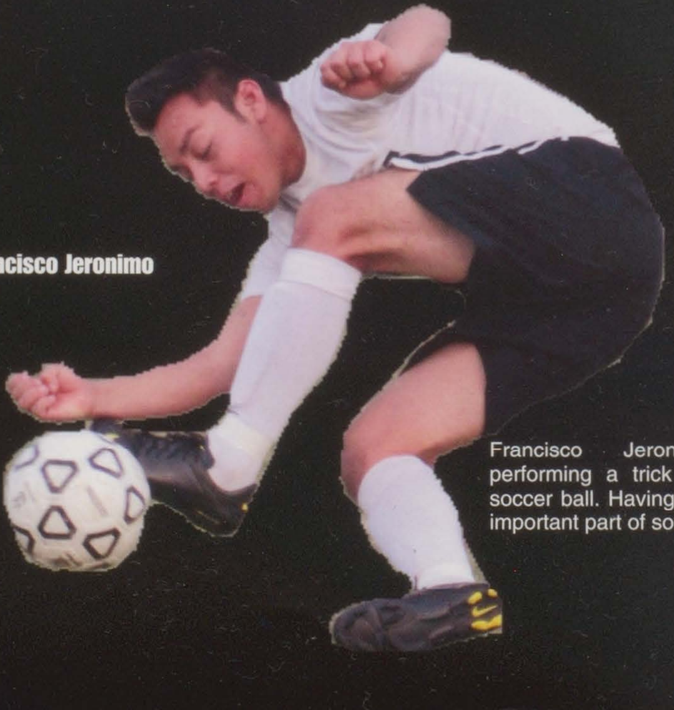
Some team members have found something interesting to watch before the start of their game. Sometimes being a spectator is the best thing to do.

Francisco Jeronimo



Francisco Jeronimo is performing a trick with the soccer ball. Having fun is an important part of soccer.

1. Bus rides are a time for preparation and self reflection. Griffin Meeks was doing just that on the way to play Central High School.
2. Arlett and Mariela Rodriguez were posing in the gym before the team left for a match.
3. Robert Allen and Elijah Grant were waiting for the opposing team to serve during a match while playing doubles.

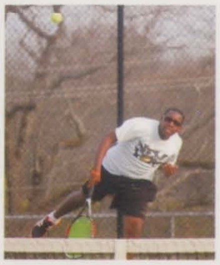
COACH HILL



David Hill, a sophomore, plays first singles for the Trojan tennis team. Just like everyone else, he gives his all every time his feet touch the court. He has many years of tennis experience, and his hitting skills reflect that.

Wyatt Robinson is in the process of delivering a very powerful serve. Focusing on the ball and where you want it to go is very important in this instance.

(Left) Arlett Rodriguez and Lateash Daniels, doubles players, are waiting on the opposing team to make a move.
(Right) Dalana McCrary, a singles player, is storing a ball in preparation for a serve. You should always approach the line with two balls in your possession.

NJROTC

"Anywhere, Anytime, Any task. Nothing but Excellence"

A Tour of Duty

For many students that attend Peach County High School, the Navy Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps (NJROTC) represents the way of life. Those in NJROTC, follow in the steps of great leaders of our country and have chosen lifestyles that seem to be like another world to others. With a very challenging, yet positive pathway to the future, participants work hard and learn more about the world each and every day. Though the days may feel long, the amount of pride and happiness is endless for those who will move on and support our country with true dedication.

Focusing on citizenship and leadership development, as well as maritime heritage; the significance of sea power, and naval topics such as the fundamentals of naval operations, seamanship, navigation and meteorology, the NJROTC program has many students dedicated to creating a constructive life for themselves and our country. Leadership can be found in each and every member of the program. It takes more than just brawn to be a part of this very distinct group of young men and women. One has to obtain tremendous amount of knowledge, bravery, and dedication.

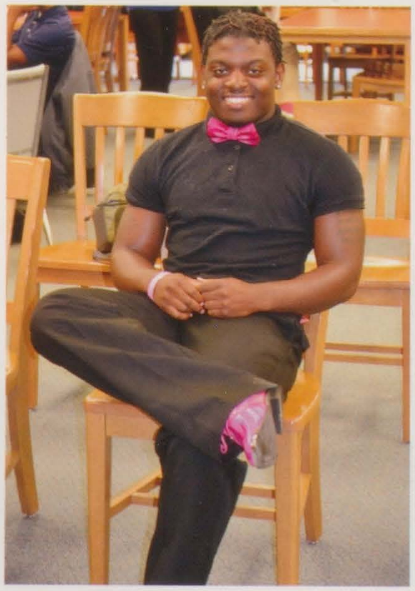
memorable moments

The most memorable moments in life are the ones we never took the time to plan.

IT'S MY 18th BIRTHDAY

The Journey Nears its End. Students are excited about the entrance of Spring. The one season that signifies the end of something old and the beginning of something new. Students worked hard to obtain good grades and end the year on a good note, but what would high school be with "Spring Flings" in anticipation of "Summer Fun." From cool clothes to even cooler attitudes, Peach County's finest are in full swing for the Spring.



Spring in full Swing

Isaiah Smith and Ivannah Campbell are cute as can be, of course they have to put their best foot forward to compete with D'lwyn Hillsman who takes "dapper" to another level. Taron Ragin says, "Who needs a cool outfit, when looking cool is in the attitude!" He definitely has a smooth, effortless smug, that spells "WAKE ME UP WHEN THIS IS OVER". Well Taron you may not be dreaming after all...nothing says the end of the year, like great weather, great clothes, and great attitudes. Oh yes, and a FAST CLOCK!

"I remember when Drenay and I were walking to the C-Building and I tripped and rolled down the ramp!"
-Malcolm Lowe

I remember when Arlese Owens and Mr. Chancellor joked in class!"
- Shamea Williams

"I remember when Khalil and I bet who would have the highest grade in chemistry. I won."
-Benni Douglas

"I remember when Bethany, Khadisja, Selena, and Chelsey came late to weight lifting and Coach Cooper got mad!"
-Ayanna Gibson

I remember when...

"I remember when Kelley Criss showed me how to make fun facial expressions on the Byron Middle School Dance Team!"
-Miriam Grant

"I remember when Ivannah Campbell put a smile on everyone's face, no matter if she or the person she was talking to was in a bad mood."
-Aja Clark

"I remember when it rained at a track meet and Keondra Simmons, Chyna Wright, and I got soaked waiting for the bus."
-Nietaiya Robinson

Autographs

"I remember when Keyanna Sturn, Drenay Everett, and I rode around Walmart on bicycles and danced in the middle of the aisles!"
- Ashley Oliver

"I remember when Chavis Dickey and Cody Parker broke Coach Young's clock."
-Juliana Crews

"I remember when my best friend, Colton, brought me to church for the first time!"
-Shelby Gant

"I remember when Stephanie Mayoquin scored her first ever varsity goal against Westside!"
-Natalie McEver

One might say we began our journey as babies, yet through the lessons learned, we have grown into young adults. One of the many journeys we will take in life comes to an end, however, we must use our knowledge to guide us to a place beyond our greatest imagination!
